

SCORES AT SHOOT CLOSE

W. R. THOMAS, OF IDAHO WINS BROWNING DIAMOND MEDAL

Becker Does Remarkable Shooting, and Ties With John Boa, of Idaho, for Sweepstakes.

The shooting at the Wasatch Gun club range yesterday was interesting and the scores made were satisfactory to those participating. The shoot for the Browning diamond medal was won by W. R. Thomas of Idaho, who made twenty-five straight hits.

The most interesting contest of the day was the shoot for the Conrath challenge medal. In this event three men—Guy Holahan, E. D. Farmin and Sam Browning—fired, each making twenty-five straight hits. In the shoot to decide the tie Holahan won, with a score of twenty-four out of twenty-five. The scores made by Farmin and Browning in the tie shoot were twenty-one and twenty-three, respectively.

In the sweepstakes shoot at twenty-five pairs of double traps ten men were entered, the shooting resulting in a tie between Gus Becker of Ogden and John Boa of Twin Falls, Ida., each making forty-three bluebirds out of a possible fifty for first money. Farmin won second money in a score of forty-two, and Poston won third money. Becker and Boa divided first money. Becker made a remarkable score. He missed his first targets and had to make twenty-nine out of thirty rocks in the final in order to make the tie with Boa. This he did, and it was considered very remarkable shooting. The high professionals for the day were Max Hensler of Colorado—146 out of 150, and Ed O'Brien, a close second with 145.

The high amateurs were H. S. Mills of Salt Lake, with a score of 143 out of a possible 150, with Naquin and Lohr close seconds with a score of 142.

SAYS CANYON IS A REVELATION

William Butler is commander-in-chief of the McPherson Post No. 6, department of Colorado and Wyoming. He was among the fighters of the early days having been a member of the 4th Wisconsin cavalry. Mr. Butler is a resident of Longmont, a little town of about 700 people, within thirty-five miles of Denver.

After spending a couple of days in Salt Lake with his comrades at the National encampment, he concluded that he had better return home to take care of his crops and business affairs. To an Examiner he made a statement last evening that he had heard so much of Ogden and its famous canyon that he concluded he would not return home without visiting here. So he came up from Salt Lake at an early hour yesterday and spent the greater portion of the afternoon visiting points of interest.

He made a trip to the canyon, which was a perfect revelation to him. "It is the most beautiful canyon I ever saw," he said, "and I have seen a good deal of the mountain country, but the thing that surprised me more than any other one thing was that huge pipe line that carries the waters of the river to the power plant at the mouth of the canyon. Down in our town we are figuring on putting in an electric light plant and we thought an 18-inch main was large enough to carry the water. This main that comes down Ogden canyon is six feet in diameter. My goodness, it is great! I have seen pipes as large as thirty inches in diameter, but never saw such a pipe as the one in your beautiful canyon. I did not think there was such a water pipe in existence."

"Longmont, haven't you heard of that city? It's a fine little place. We raise fifty bushels of wheat to the acre, good crops of barley and oats, and sugar beets. Well, you ought to see the sugar beet patches. We raise lots of hay at Longmont, too, and plenty of potatoes and a good deal of fruit. We have two railroads passing through the city and the Moffatt road only a few miles away. Our sugar factory cost a million and a half dollars and we have one of the most successful canning factories there in the whole country. You people at Ogden's canned goods every day."

Quicker Than Feet

You're a "buyer" when you seek a place to board or rent, or a new house for your family, or a new location for your store or office. You're a "buyer" when you want a new cook or housemaid or clerk or hired hand or any other employee, and the easiest, quickest way to get exactly what you want is to sit at ease at home and let a little classified ad in The Standard find it for you; quicker, surer, easier than you could possibly find it for yourself, if you put on your hat and wear yourself out running up this street or that, ringing door-bells and asking questions. If you don't find exactly what you want when you read through the Munnimaker ads in The Standard, then it's a safe wager that you'll find exactly what you want if you put your needs into words and let a Munnimaker ad carry your message to the thousands of other busy, enterprising, prosperous people who are reading The Standard right now. The cost is small. The money-gain is considerable, and the saving of time and trouble is immense. Telephone your needs to The Standard.

Dear Mr. Munnimaker:

Care The Standard Classified Columns.

Through a little Munnimaker Classified Ad in The Standard, I made all my extra money by getting work for my spare time, evenings.

Yours truly,

STENOGRAPHER.

Write Mr. Munnimaker, care of The Standard, or phone him, No. 56, whenever you want anything.
